

aaccommunity.net

AAC Community

AAC Community is a resource for and about people who communicate without speaking.

AAC Community is where all of Consider Communication lives.

We all have a human right to communicate. We don't lose that right if we have a disability. People with a disability may have complex communication needs.

Whether someone can speak a little, or not at all, they may benefit from AAC. If you have questions about AAC, we are here to help.